Translation/Rairana

There is business in the Philippines that makes ladies' shoulder bags, small purse, cases for mobile phones, table mats etc., from the fiber extracted from dried banana trunks. Perhaps this is the kind of small income generating business or cottage industry that Government could, also see merits in promoting for our people in Butaritari. Could the Ministry of Commerce, Industry and Cooperatives kindly explore this business potential through the Kiribati Honorary Consulate in the Philippines or the Forum Secretariat or UNIDO (whichever is most appropriate) with a view to secure technical expertise to assist in establishing similar business in Butaritari?
